MILITARY ACCESSIONS VITAL TO THE NATIONAL INTEREST

MAVNI INFORMATION SHEET FOR HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONALS

goarmy.com/mavni

If you are a health care professional licensed and residing in the United States, you can earn a commission as an Army Officer and get on the fast track to U.S. citizenship.

Military Accessions Vital to the National Interest (MAVNI) is a recruiting program that allows legal non-citizens with in-demand skills to join the Army in exchange for expedited U.S. citizenship.

Individuals in this program must serve for either three years on active duty, or six years in the Army Reserve.

EXPEDITED CITIZENSHIP

Individuals who join this program are able to move from non-immigrant visa or asylee/refugee/TPS, directly to U.S. citizenship, bypassing the Green Card process.

The military is the only employer that can offer expedited citizenship. Only military service members can naturalize without first obtaining a Green Card.

PROGRAM CRITERIA

1. Applicants must be in one of the following categories at the time of their enlistment:

- ★ Non-immigrant categories E, F, H, I, J, K, L, M, O, P, Q, R, S, T, TC, TD, TN, U OR V
- ★ Asylee, refugee, Temporary Protected Status (TPS)
- ★ Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA)

2. Applicants must legally reside in the United States for a minimum of two years prior to commissioning (excluding DACA) without a single absence from the country lasting longer than 90 days.

3. Applicants must receive qualifying scores on the Armed Forces Qualification Test (AFQT) and an English language proficiency test. Applicants must also be fully licensed in the United States.

WHAT CURRENT SOLDIERS SAY ABOUT THE PROGRAM

"MAVNI allowed me to grow in my medical training. It made me a better physician and human being. Professionally, I am growing day by day. I am becoming an efficient leader in my civilian and military career. The U.S. Army keeps my skills up and pushes me to excel as a physician and as an Officer."

"I can't stress enough how I am truly blessed to be a part of the U.S. Army. MAVNI opened the door for me to pursue a higher career. In addition, the U.S. Army gives me fabulous clinical experience that I would not have on the civilian side."
