If you are a legal non-citizen health care professional, or if you speak more than one language, you can join the Army and get on the fast track to U.S. citizenship.

Military Accessions Vital to the National Interest (MAVNI) is a recruiting program that allows legal non-citizens with in-demand skills to join the Army in exchange for expedited U.S. citizenship.

Currently, the Army is searching for licensed health care professionals and individuals who can speak more than one language.

EXPEDITED CITIZENSHIP

Individuals who join the Army through this program are able to move from non-immigrant visa or asylee/refugee/TPS directly to citizenship, bypassing the Green Card process. In most cases participants in the program will become naturalized U.S. citizens by the time they graduate from ten weeks of Basic Combat Training or accept a commission as Army Officers.

PROGRAM CRITERIA

1. Applicants must be in one of the following categories at the time of their enlistment:

- ★ Non-immigrant categories E, F, H, I, J, K, L, M, O, P, Q, R, S, T, TC, TD, TN, U OR V
- ★ Asylee, refugee, Temporary Protected Status (TPS)
- ★ Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA)

2. Applicants must legally reside in the United States for a minimum of two years prior to joining the Army (excluding DACA) without a single absence from the country lasting longer than 90 days.

3. Applicants must have a high school diploma, and qualifying scores on the Armed Forces Qualification Test (AFQT) and a proficiency test in his or her native language.

4. Must be 17-34 years old and be under 35 at the time of shipping to BCT.
